JJC DIARY

'45-'46

Dear Diary,

Wonder why the far off look in my eye, diary? I've been thinking about the past year I've spent in J. J. C. Oh, sure, we've studied but all our good times and pals will stay in our memories longer than English history dates. Let me turn the page, and I'll show you what I mean.

Dean Yaggy

Ira D. Yaggy, our considerate dean, received his bachelor's degree from Cornell University and his master's degree from the University of Chicago. To him went our complaints, our absence blanks, our flunk slips, our program troubles, and our worries of the future. With years of experience behind him, he solved each difficulty and kept us on the right track. Just to prove he's a regular fellow, he enjoyed our social events as much as we did.

Grayce

Grayce Stadler, who graduated from Joliet Township High School and Junior College, is Dean Yaggy's pretty and efficient secretary. Because of her ready smile for everyone—even the forever absent—and her willingness to help, she will always be a favorite with students and faculty members alike.

We Started the Year Out Right with

Our first activity of the year—an All-College picnic. Torrents of rain chased us to the Boy Scout cabin in Highland Park but didn't dampen our spirits a bit. The traditional hot dogs and trimmings gave us strength for singing and games of all varieties—Fun??? But def!!

Then came our fall formal, "Manhattan Nights." See what a crowd we had.....

Dad's Sport Night

When the W.A.A. girls invited their dads to engage and compete in some vigorous exercise, they didn't plan to go home with aching muscles themselves. But any aching muscles or pride were well worth the wonderful time had by everyone. The senior members of the families really "showed their stuff," and the gals were mighty proud of them too.

The Semester Ended With Celebration

"STAGE DOOR," by Edna Ferber, outstanding both as a Broadway success and a movie, was this year's choice for the annual junior college production which was given November 16th.

The three-act play, the locale of which was a New York boarding house for career girls, was well chosen, since the very slim male population of J.J.C. the first semester made it necessary to choose a play calling for an overwhelming majority of feminine roles.

Leading parts were portrayed by Frances McGinnis as Terry Randall, Tedra Wulfe as Judith Canfield, Phyllis Gustafson as Jean Maitland, and Barbara Ellis as Kaye Hamilton. The large supporting cast was well handled by Sara Meers, Mary Joy Nelson, Georgia Lennon, Eula Linnard, Jean Smith, Beverly Long, Joan Hollister, Bill Taylor, Jim McNichols, Matt Futterer, Jim Van Dyne, Lorraine Benedick, Priscilla Roth, Paul Theis, Jean Nelson, Charlene Reinsch, Norman Simmer, Don Swanson, Bob Fesko, Bill Marsh, Jerry Mangan, Marilyn Thomas, and Margaret Bombasaro.

Under the direction of Miss Catherine Wood and with the aid of a talented cast, "Stage Door" may be added to the long list of J.J.C.'s successful productions. By unanimous vote of the student council the proceeds from the play went toward the support of college basketball.

New Year's Eve Ball

One of the biggest and most successful social functions of the school year was our annual New Year's Eve Ball, sponsored by the Boys' College-Y. The many alumni who were on hand to welcome in the New Year helped to make it one of the most successful in recent years.

"McKeon's Melodions" furnished the music for more than three hundred students and alumni who passed between the two huge white Christmas trees at the entrance to the combined gyms to ring in the New Year among new and old friends in a familiar atmosphere.

Everyone seemed to have a wonderful time the afternoon of the Mother-Daughter Tea given January 4 by the W.A.A.

The entertainment program proved without a doubt that we have talent at J.J.C. worthy of praise. Taking part in entertaining our mothers were Phyl Gustafson, who opened and closed the program with vocal selections; Tedra Wulfe, who gave a reading; and Delores Juricic who presented a toe-tap dance. The Tumblettes and Ballet Club also performed.

Jean Nelson and her committees got the credit for a very successful affair.

Collegiates Govern

Mr. R. L. Frisbie, who is the head of the chemistry department, deserves a great deal of credit for the success of our student government organization. As the Student Council's faithful sponsor, he gave advice and aid in all matters pertaining to student activities and school plans. He is "Tops" with everyone, and don't think we didn't appreciate his work because we did!

The Student Council went to work with determination to get something done and kept our college buzzing with activity from September until June. Under the guidance of Mr. Frisbie and Dean Yaggy, the council is composed of the class officers and representatives of various school organizations. It is the voice of the student body in the management of social activities and in plans for a better school.

This year through the council's sponsorship we had many colossal social events such as a fall picnic, a smooth formal, "Manhattan Nights," November 23, a Snow Party in December which really set the rafters of the Boy Scout cabin ringing, and a hilarious college mixer, March 22. The last activities of the year were a spring formal, May 3, and the council's annual picnic during the first week in June.

The officers of this group for the first school semester were:

Priscilla Roth—President
Donald Swanson—Vice-President
Marguerite McOwan—Secretary

Throughout the second semester the council was headed by

Mary Joy Nelson—President
Ray Goodson—Vice-President
Marguerite McOwan—Secretary

Our Frosh

One of the most important activities of every school year is the election of class officers. The election this year was held during the second week of school, after nominations had been made by the members of each class, and was followed with as much interest and enthusiasm as a national, political struggle. The Freshmen chose:

Rowena Cerre—President
Ray Goodson—Vice-President
Marguerite McOwan—Secretary-Treasurer
Georgia Lennon—Council Representatives

And Soph Leaders

The Sophomores elected as their leaders:

Mary Joy Nelson—President
Olin McReynolds—Vice-President
Barbara Ellis—Secretary-Treasurer
Helen Aho—Council Representative

Both Freshman and Sophomore officers automatically became members of the Student Council and set to work to make this year's social and educational functions outstanding.

The COLLEGE-Y had over-abundant bids for membership this year and went ahead at full speed by sponsoring a pot-luck supper, a dance, a Christmas program and a banquet along with their regular meetings.

During the first semester the men's division was led by Matt Futterer, president, Bill Morse, vice-president, Don Swanson, secretary, and Jim McCarthy, treasurer. Elected to office for the second semester were Bili Taylor, president, Ray Goodson, vice-president, Jim McNichols, secretary, and Bill Thomas, treasurer.

Officers for the women's division which was newly organized this year were Frances Sineni, president, Lois Benson, vice-president, Mary Joy Nelson, secretary, and Phyllis Hartley, treasurer.

JJC Made the News

S. Meers, Miss Tippett, R. Russell

Congrats and red roses should go to the Blazer staff for the strictly smooth job they did first semester and last semester. Miss Tippet, our faculty advisor, still retains her sweet smile, although we could see her many times chasing some slick chick or smooth joe for late copy, and hiding behind that padlock didn't do any good either!

Lynn Linnard and Hope Whitney were our co-editors the first semester, and with an experienced staff gave us a paper that was really on the beam. Pictures and cartoons could be found in every issue showing what students were doing—along with interesting editorials on what they were thinking.

The last semester Dick Russell and Sara Meers held the co-editorships. With the termination of the war and the return of many G. I.'s back to school, our paper really had different and enlightening articles, and the girls were brought closer to what it was really like at the front lines and found just how big a foxhole is. The paper this semester still gave out with pictures—only more so. Everything from a gossip column to current events showed greater variety.

All in all, this last year has been a happy one for all concerned, and was made more so by our school paper—The Blazer!

Night Life

The slopmores (so-called by the ever-lovin' frosh) sponsored a gala all-college SPORT NIGHT; and because it followed our semester exams, the attendance was sumpin'. It gave all those who attended a chance to relax after a strenuous period of mental activity.

But the sophs really got flying with Doolittle, burned the midnite oil and—Dad's last six gallons of gas to entertain the freshmen. There were games of all varieties and everyone's favorite pastime—eating.

A good time was had by all, and from the frosh to the sophomores, "Thanks. You're tops in hosts."

"Tonight's the night" was the topic all day in discussing the SPRING MIXER.

A variety of entertainment was planned. Among the activities were games, dancing, and, of course, eating. Our own Junior College orchestra, Bill Brown's, played for those who cared to dance.

"Let's have another soon" was the goodbye heard as the students left the gym.

"Love Letters," the annual W.A.A. dance held February 16, was really a sell-out. We had not only Junior College students, but also the alumni and members of the senior class of the high school.

In accordance with the theme a post office adorned the center of the gym at which programs in the form of letters were given out.

"A wonderful time" was claimed by all who attended the dance.

Women's Athletic Association

Way back in "ye ole month of September" the first post-war W.A.A. meeting was held. Officers were elected and all of us knew then that the W.A.A. was headed for bigger and better things. Then came the never-to-be-forgotten three-day initiation. We were all good sports and came to school looking like "Gravel Gertie" with the added touch of barber pole legs. Our one hope was that first impressions wouldn't be lasting in this case!! October marked the installation of officers and announcement of heads of sports. A full year of sports was planned, and we began to wonder when we could spare a little time for studying. Dad's Sports Night marked the first social gathering for the year in November. Many of us were surprised at the athletic ability of "pop." It was a real Sugar Daddy Splurge. December was the month of the flu and had its bad effects upon most of us, one being the postponement of the Mother-Daughter Christmas Tea. Then the girls' "Collegiate" basketball team came thru showing the colors of J.J.C. by emerging the undefeated champions of a tournament in which sixteen teams participated.

February found one of the hottest competitive contests in swing which has ever been witnessed. This was in the way of co-ed bowling which both began and finished with a bang. At last the romantic part of sweethearts' month was expressed in "Love Letters," the informal W.A.A. dance. For the first time we really could shout and mean it—Alleluia, my guy's come back! Co-ed sports were the main event during March. We really proved to the fellows that we can do something besides sitting around looking pretty?? On April 5th the W.A.A. of St. Francis College was entertained at a play night in the small gym. Last of all May, the best month of all, marked the best activity. The W.A.A. Banquet was held at the Louis Joliet Hotel and awards were distributed to those eligible. What a wonderful feeling—receiving an award for spending a year packed full of fun!!

Behold Our Muscle- Bound Males

This Year's Sport Record

This past school year has seen the return to J.J.C. of three major sports. After an absence of two or three years basketball, baseball and tennis have all been re-established.

Basketball returned to J.J.C. after last being played in an abbreviated 1943-44 season. Since Mr. Wills had taken over high school basketball, it was necessary to secure a new coach. This was done with the hiring of Mr. James Rickhoff, high school math teacher, to fill the vacancy. He filled the job very ably by winning the conference championship and taking third in the state tourney.

With a lapse of three years in baseball competition, as far as our team was concerned, it, too, was returned to the sports scene under the direction of A. A. Wills.

The third and last sport to be rehabilitated was tennis which also had an uneventful span of three years. Mr. E. A. Larson was in charge of the netters and had a very promising, potential crew.

Our Basketball Coach

"They were the most cooperative group I have ever worked with." These are the words spoken by Mr. James Rickhoff, the coach of the 1945-46 J.J.C. basketeers.

Coach "Jimmy" Rickhoff in his first season as Junior College coach piloted the Wolves to the conference championship. Now we say to Coach Rickhoff, "Thanks for a job well done."

They Were Stars

The Junior Collegians this year have had one of their most successful seasons in several years. The first semester the team, which was composed entirely of freshmen, sailed through six straight opponents without a defeat. The second semester saw both new and familiar faces, with many veterans and experienced ball handlers back to bolster the Wolves. They, too, continued the winning streak for four more contests.

The Wolves were handed their first defeat by Herzl to the tune of 41 to 27. This was immediately followed by their second defeat by the Naval Armory, 59 to 45. This was considered one of the best service teams in the Chicago area.

The Collegians had a record of 12 wins and 3 losses. They scored a total of 736 points in 15 games for an average of 48 points per game, while their opponents scored 549 points for an average per game of 36 points. In conference play they were tops, with an 8 and 1 record.

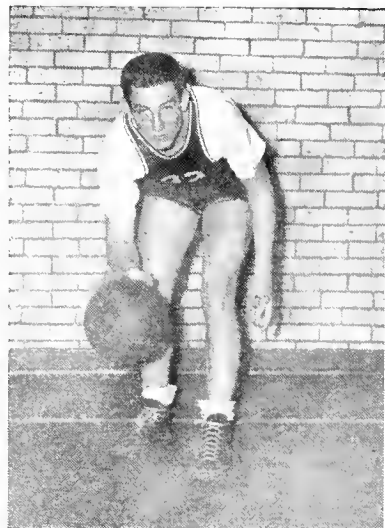

Under the leadership of Coach James Rickhoff and Captain Don Tyrell, Joliet captured first place in the conference and third in the state tournament.

The Junior College baseball team, under the guidance of A. A. Wills, entered competition on April 15 at North Central College. They lost this contest 14 to 9 to a team which had previously beaten the University of Chicago 10-2. Next the Wolves took a 3-2 extra inning ball game from Harvey Junior College.

The Willsmen opened their home season in grand style by trouncing Morgan Park Junior College 16-4. After their two conference wins the Willsmen met their first conference defeat at Herzl 10-1. Playing a star-studded Naval Armory nine they were able to do no better than to lose a 17 to 11 slugfest.

At present Bill Thomas, playing first base, and Don Peterson, pitcher and infielder, are the leading hitters.

Two other starting pitchers are diminutive Harold Coldwater and Paul "Dizzy" Theis. The other end of the battery combination is handled by Al Meyer and Rich Martin, who switch off between short stop and catcher.

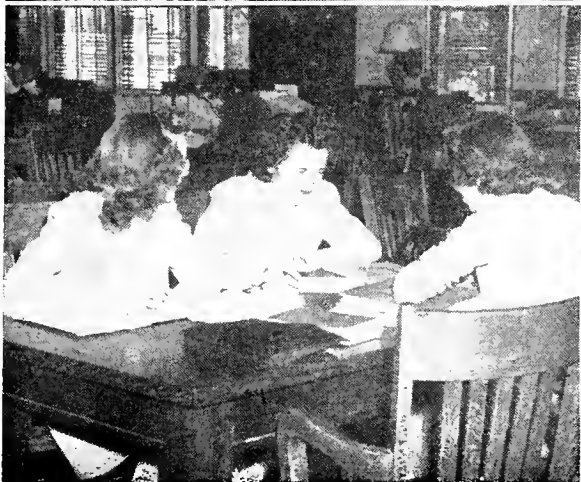

The remainder of the infield consists of Wayne Erickson and John Skoien at second base and Elmer "Dusty" Hinds at third. Bill Burns and Casey Jones patrol the outfield with each of the pitchers taking his turn there when not pitching.

They say that all good things must come to an end, diary. Although "good" is a very inadequate way of describing all the people, places, and parties I've just shown you — well gee, diary, that's about the extent of the complimentary adjectives I know.

I hate prolonged goodbyes, diary, so — so long.....
